

ALSAT

UEMS Meeting Luxembourg

16/10/2021

ALSAT

Association Luxembourgeoise de Santé au Travail

A little bit of history

1985 « Société Luxembourgeoise de Médecine du Travail »

1995 implementation of the legislation on occupational health

1996 « Association Luxembourgeoise de Santé au Travail »

ALSAT

Association Luxembourgeoise de Santé au Travail

Who can become member ?

- Associate members – 98
Any occupational physician or physician practicing occupational medicine, working or residing in the territory of Luxembourg
- Affiliate members – 21
Any natural or legal person interested in the development of occupational health, (mainly psychologists, social workers, nurses)
- Opportunities:
Higher membership rate, multidisciplinary approach

ALSAT

Association Luxembourgeoise de Santé au Travail

The missions

- Advocacy for occupational medicine
- Continuing education in OH
- Defending the interests of its members and of occupational medicine in general
- National and international representation
 - Higher Council for Health and Safety at Work
 - Higher Council for Occupational Diseases
 - Luxembourg Resuscitation Council
 - UEMS

ALSAT

Association Luxembourgeoise de Santé au Travail

Main projects in progress

- Developing many concrete proposals to improve the current legal framework concerning occupational health
- Promotion and development of specialized training in occupational medicine at the University of Luxembourg
- Close to success, unfortunately lack of progress due to various political reasons.

